

Dear

Christmas greetings for 2007! We seem to have been up to a bit over the last 12 months!

Chris is now past the end of first year of sixth form and is looking around for what follows next year as well as preparing for A levels. His 18th birthday is fast approaching! He still spends lots of time on computerish things as well as lots of interest in the English side of his A levels.

Clare has now completed her university an enjoyable time at her degree day, she is for a job. She still visits Manchester club.

course in Biology at Manchester, we all had now living at home again and looking around frequently with her games

Beth is still at Krogab – she has now been started Spanish classes in our lunch hour –

there over two years. This year we have which is great fun!

Robert has left two jobs this year! He left April and is now with TNEI in Manchester – complicated software for electricity Sainsbury's in January and left Siemens in working with some ex-colleagues developing companies.

Beth and Robert celebrated their silver wedding in July with a family holiday in France – a week near Rouen – same gîte as last year! And then we had a week in the Ardennes at a farm with a stables – which Clare much enjoyed – in spite of the numerous flies that came with it.

We then, in October, left Clare and Chris in charge of Hecate (the cat!) and spent a week in Spain walking in Almeria where we enjoyed the warm climate and relaxed cuisine – and one day with torrential rain.

Church life continues with some development of the team parish's future direction – we will be having a weekend not-away early in the new year. Robert has been busy lay-reading as the All Saints team vicar left in February, we are hoping to acquire a new vicar sometime after Easter.

Best wishes for Christmas and the New Year,
